

Structural Components

Bringing It All Together.

January 31, 2008

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to recommend Great Lakes Aerial Maintenance and Construction Company as a Construction Firm of high caliber.

I first came into contact with GLA when they were referred to me by a colleague to install an extension on an existing tower in Northern Michigan in early 2007. Based on their outstanding performance and service on this tower I recommended them to our VP of Engineering and Operations Manager and asked that they be added to our Prime Contractors list.

Over the next 10 months GLA continued to impress me with their high quality of work, professionalism and very quick response and time lines. Anyone familiar with this industry knows; these are traits that are incredibly hard to find. GLA has completed well over 20 jobs for us throughout North America, ranging from Tower Modifications and Structural Upgrades on SST, Monopoles and Guy Towers. These types of jobs always, pose unforeseen challenges, due to the fact the Structures have been erected for some time and are typically heavily loaded with Lines, Antennas and have Structural issues. I have been very impressed with how quickly they have adapted to the different Reinforcement Systems and their crew are set up with all the right equipment to get the job down quickly and safely.

I have worked with many Contractors over the past decade, including too many incompetent ones. My Job is made so much easier and enjoyable when I contract with GLA. When I work with Jason, I always feel I can trust them to execute the job per contract and am pleased to report they do not hit me change orders and Jason prides himself on always exceeding my expectations.

Needless to say, the quality of work, scheduling of its construction and coordination of its subcontractors, when needed has given Structural Components great respect and appreciation for GLA. I can say our experience working with GLA has proven to be far better than many larger contractors in the industry. I always look forward to the upcoming jobs with Jason and everyone at GLA.

Sincerely,

Lowell Scarrow
Senior Construction Manager